On Saturday Evening Last—Miss Della Sisterna Entertains Her Friends

Upon the Seventeenth Anniversary of Her Birth, Saturday Evening.

The President Finally Sends a U. S. War Vessel to the Hawaiian Islands.

He says that it is not on Account of what has Happened, but is in the General Line of His Policy.

Birthday Party.

Notwithstanding the stormy weather social affairs are active and from one end of the town to another there is something of note every evening, the young folks being willing to brave the storm, even though they have to come from across the bay.

For the past week there have been invitations out for a double birthday party which was to be given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Unda on San Pablo avenue, near University avenue. It was not for the birthday of any family, but for two distinguished gentlemen of San Francisco, Mr. Charles Delaney and Professor P. A. Espena. Both of these gentlemen are bachelors, but they have so many lady friends that when their natal day returns each year there is always a handsome young lady or two that recalls it and gives to them a reception that is fit for a President or a King. On Saturday evening last these gentlemen were invited to spend their birthday celebration in West Berkeley and to become the guests of Miss Clorinda and Miss Carmen Unda.

At 7:30 o'clock Messrs Delaney and Espena, accompanied by a number of distinguished friends of both sexes, arrived at the palatial home of the Misses Unda, and shortly afterward were invited into the spacious double parlors, which for the nonce were turned into a dining room with tables set from one end to the other.

Ushers were in attendance to escort each guest to his or her allotted seat at the table, and by 8 o'clock the merry rattle of knives and forks, as they assisted in the work of supplying the inner man, was in progress.

In the space of half an hour, after several courses had been disposed of, the toastmaster commenced upon his duties and after explaining how thankful he was for the honor conferred upon him, stated that the ladies present had selected him to make a presentation to the two distinguished guests of the evening, one of whom occupied a seat opposite each other at either end of the table, and in a few well chosen words he presented them with a very appropriate present.

Professor Espena, in returning his thanks for the display of friendship and good feeling bestowed upon himself and Mr. Delaney, stated that it was well known that he was no speaker, but as he had not yet passed the sere and yellow leaf, but expected to if he lived longer, he could only say that he was most thankful to his friends for this expression of friendship, and being so overcome he would have to refer further remarks to his juvenile friend, Mr. Delaney. Mr. Delaney who at that moment was carving a turkey, beamed upon his friends for a moment and then remarked that as he was looking for the wishbone in the fowl that he was carving, all he could do was to return his most heartfelt thanks to those who had honored him so highly.

Toasts were then responded to by County Recorder Spear, Mr. Wolf, Mr. Hendrickson, Mrs. C. H. Spear, Miss Freeze, Miss P. A. Unda and several others.

At the conclusion of the banquet the guests retired to other parts of the house for social converse, until the parlors were cleared after which Miss Bates favored the assemblage with several Chilean songs. Others recited and both vocal and instrumental pieces were rendered by different guests.

Dancing was then commenced and it was early, very early in the morning when the guests took their departure for home.

The following named persons were present: Prof. P. A. Espena, Chas. Delaney, Hon. J. M. Lacy and Mr. Lugo, Mrs. Bates, Mrs. Rutherford, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Spear, Mr. and Mrs. C. Maloney, Mr. and Mrs. Neilson, Mr. and Mrs. Unda, Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Unda, the Misses Lonise Freeze, Kate Quinlan, Minnie Creighton, Lena Partridge, Etta Robertson, Lizzie Bolsted, Minnie Bolsted, Miss Neilson, Messrs. J. J. Merrill, Ted Smith, Herzer, Wolfe, Rodrigues, Arthur Castoloso, I. Danielwitz, William Hendrickson, J. A. Alcayaga, William Nash and Mrs. Nash, Mr. Shusler, Phil Serda, Thos. W. Bree, Miss Clorinda Unda, Miss Carmen Unda, Moses M. Unda, Miss Ny, Mr. Compton, Miss Lupe Cruz, Master Robert Cruz.

Mr. and Mrs. Sisterna, of 800 University avenue, tendered their daughter Della a birthday party in honor of her seventeenth birthday on Saturday evening last. This is just the weather for indoor amusements, and in consequence a large and merry concourse assembled. The rooms were neatly decorated with flowers and ferns, and music, dancing and games were indulged in. Prof. Siegue rendered some fine selections on the piano, which were well received. At a late hour supper was served. Everything that could be wished for was there, and one and all voted the evening's entertainment a grand success.

After congratulating the fair maiden on her birthday, and saying that they hoped the happy event would come often, the guests took their departure.

Among those present were: Miss Jennie Vasquez, Miss Lottie Vasquez, Miss Trini Kelling, Miss Anita Mercado, Mrs. Santos Kelling, Mrs. Manuela V. Munoz, Mrs. Nacisa Gallaquillo, Messrs. A. Perada, Geo. Hilderbrand, Frankie Larkin, Walter J. Owen, J. Lopez, Emilio Chadwick, A. Munoz, Jr., Manuel Canisina and W. McComber, of San Francisco. Miss A. Teague, Miss K. and M. Haverlan, Miss A. Marsicana, Miss D. Lombardi, Messrs. H. Dean, E. Windrum, W. Murphy, T. Williams, F. Atcherson, Albert Wilson, J. Carrey, J. Haverlan and Prof. Siegue, of Berkeley.

The following presents were received by the young lady from her parents and many friends: Silver hair pin, gold side combs, silk handkerchiefs, handsome writing case and paper, silk ties, China tea pot, birthday cake, with name and age of the young lady hostess on it, flowers, plants and other presents, too numerous to mention.

In San Francisco experiments are being made in a so-called new pavement. It is apparently an improvement on the old Nicholson pavement laid down in 1880 on Market street. The new pavement may prove good. Having a thick concrete bed to rest on is also an improvement. The Hunt design is much better than the above.

Chas. T. Kerns, opposite Berkeley station, had a large sign placed in front of his cigar store on Saturday last.

Grover Speaks Out.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—In conversation this evening President Cleveland seemed entirely willing to discuss the Hawaiian question. He said: "No information has been received which indicates that anything will happen in Hawaii making the presence of one of our naval vessels necessary, unless we are prepared to enter upon a policy and course of conduct violative of every rule of international law and utterly unjustifiable. All who take any interest in the question should keep in view that Hawaii is entirely independent of us, and that in its relation to us it is a foreign country."

"A ship has been sent to Honolulu, not because there has been any change in the policy of the Administration, and not because there seems to be any imminent necessity for its presence there. The vessel has been sent there in accordance with the policy of the Administration in every case of the kind, and from motives of extreme caution, and with a possibility that the disturbance may be resumed, and that it might result in danger to the person and property of American citizens entitled to the protection of the United States. The course was at once determined upon as soon as information reached the Government of the recent trouble."

"So far from having the slightest objection to making public the instructions which were given to the commander of the Philadelphia, and the dispatch she will carry to Mr. Willis, our Minister in Hawaii, I am glad to put them before my fellow-citizens. Here they are:"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19, 1895.—To Rear Admiral Beardslee, Flagship Philadelphia, San Francisco: Proceed with the steamship Philadelphia with dispatch to Honolulu. Your purpose as the United States senior naval officer there will be the protection of the lives and property of American citizens.

In case of civil war in the islands, extend no aid nor support, moral or physical, to any of the parties engaged therein, but keep steadily in view your duty to protect the lives and property of all such citizens of the United States as shall not by their participation in such civil commotions forfeit their rights in that regard to the protection of the American flag. An American citizen, who during a revolution in a foreign country, participated in any attempt of force of arms or violence to maintain or overthrow the existing Government, cannot claim that the Government of the United States shall protect him against the consequence of such act.

Show these instructions to and consult freely with the United States Minister at Honolulu on all points that may arise, seeking his opinion and advice in all matters practicable on the actual employment of the forces under your command, bearing in mind that the diplomatic and political interests of the United States are in his charge. Afford him such aid in all emergencies as may be necessary. Attention is called to article 287 of the United States Navy regulations as amended. Acknowledged by telegram. HERBERT.

WASHINGTON, January 19, 1895.—To Willis, Minister, Honolulu: Although your telegram reporting the uprising of January 6th does not indicate that you regard the presence of a war ship necessary, the President deems it advisable that one proceed immediately to Honolulu for the protection of American citizens and property, should a contingency arise requiring it. You, as our sole, diplomatic representative, will confer with the commanding officer as to the assistance which his instructions contemplate in case of need. GRESHAM.

Death of Israel W. Knox.

Israel W. Knox, a pioneer resident of Oakland, died at his residence on Telegraph avenue of that city Saturday morning early. He was born in Blandford, Mass., in 1828 and came to California in 1852. For many years he has been engaged in mining business. In 1864, and for several years later, he was interested in the Foundry business in San Francisco and invented the Knox pan, which has been used all over the Coast in the various quartz mills. Of a pleasant and genial nature, he at once made himself loved by all those he came in contact with either socially or in a business way. His associations were always with those who had a desire to do good for their fellowmen. In the public positions, which he was elected to serve in, the good of the community was his first thought and that he worked incessantly for. He was a thoroughly good, honest, straightforward man. What better monument can a man have? He built the Field's Seminary building in Oakland.

The deceased leaves a widow, one son, Charles, and a brother, Dr. Henry Knox. He was a member of the First Congregational Church, whose pastor, Rev. Dr. J. K. McLean, will conduct the funeral services tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Field's Seminary Building, 1825 Telegraph avenue, Oakland.

President Cleveland and his cabinet will have some choice reading matter to peruse when they read some of the speeches which will be delivered in Congress during the coming week when the Hawaiian question comes up. Some of the speakers were choked on last week for the President's special benefit. He will find no pent up Utica will restrain the gift of some American orators when they fairly get launched in invective.

Mr. Hamman, who has been making official guesses at coming weather is reported to have said that "we can't tell just what the weather is going to do yet."

BERKELEY.

The Board of Trustees has the question of water rates for the year of 1895-96 under consideration, the law requiring that they shall be fixed during February to take effect on the 1st of July following. The rates that had prevailed for years were reduced last season 15 per cent for private consumers, and for street-sprinkling purposes a change was made from 25 cents a thousand gallons to 10 cents. The consequence was not what was expected by the public, for in many instances of a higher charge was made than heretofore. The company explains this by saying that up to last year they had not charged up to their full rates, as the higher rate allowed, for two purposes made it unnecessary. When, however, the rate for street sprinkling was reduced to a price below the cost of the water, the burden had to be shifted upon the private rate-payers, the unimproved property thus escaping its fair share of maintaining the water supply.

A portion of the town is supplied by the Contra Costa Water Company, but that corporation has as yet failed to respond to the request for a financial statement upon which to base the rates for the next season. As they supply only a limited district, the rates as fixed for the Alameda Water Company will apply equally to the Oakland concern.

UGHT TO HAVE GATES.

The GAZETTE has from its inception, spoken against the practice of boys and even men jumping on and off the trains. Last week's tragedy was a climax. While we opposed gates before it is our earnest hopes that gates will be put upon the Berkeley route, with the provision that any person tendering his fare to the gate keeper will be entitled to ride. There are so many children and young men who attend the Kellogg school, High School and the University who jump on and off the trains every day. The Railroad employees are doing their best to stop this business and they are ably supported by the officers of town but until we can stop this habit, the chances are that every few days will see a repetition of yesterday's tragedy. Unless mothers and fathers will look after their boys, the Railroad company will and ought to be exempt from all suits of damage.

For fine candies, teas, coffees, flavoring extracts and notions go to J. R. Fenton's new store at 2152 Dwight way, near depot, where you will be waited upon by the ever obliging Miss Speck.

S. G. Crawford has moved his Intelligence office to corner of Addison street and Stanford avenue, where all kinds of help can be obtained.

The Real Reasons.

"Drink causes crime!" yells the priest, parson and their following. It does nothing of the sort. It is the social conditions which cause a low state of morality, and that low state originates from the lack of sufficient relaxation from this continual break-neck driving to get rich all at once. Give the toilers—who build up vast fortunes for these useless, bigotted priests, parsons and crazy never-work men and women, who scheme and get laws passed to steal away what little pleasure there is on this hell on earth—more wages, lesser hours and a greater opportunity to amuse themselves out of doors, and the priests, parsons, etc., will have to find something better to do than to be continually hunting around with gimblets and boring holes in saloon doors and private chambers to see and hear what is happening inside.—Lance.

William M. Everts' Wit.

A story illustrating the lawyer's quickness is a favorite in circles of "applied finance." Not long since he stood with a party of friends on the soil of Virginia near the famous Natural Bridge. There is a legend that once on a time George Washington threw a silver dollar from the stream to the surface of the bridge. It is a big throw, so big in fact that some of the tourists were inclined to disbelieve the legend. Mr. Everts being appealed to for his opinion instantly replied as he measured the distance with a twinkling eye: "Well, we must not forget that a dollar went a good deal further in Washington's day than it does now."

NOT DEAD.

James Feeman Only Injured.

James Feeman, better known as "Jimmie the Gopher," was reported as dead, but he must have come to life again as a GAZETTE reporter had quite a long conversation with the "dead" man on Saturday evening last. He did not seem dead, but, on the contrary, decidedly alive. He said that this was not the first time that he had been reported gone from the living. Mr. Feeman is employed by the Alameda Water Company as head man. He had been laid up from injuries received by being thrown from his luggy, but has sufficiently recovered so as to be able to walk around with the assistance of a stout stick.

Mr. Boyce has introduced a bill in the Legislature for the purpose of having the present statutes and codes revised. It is for the purpose of weeding out many of the contradictory laws on the Statute books. If the work can be properly done it will save the cost of the expenditure in a very short time in the way of expenses of litigation.

The shore from West Berkeley to Bay street on the south, and from West Berkeley to Port Costa on the north, was lined with duck hunters today and many of them report good bags. The wind on the bay blew the ducks in shore, where they became easy prey for the hunters.

In various places on the Pacific Coast the people are demanding new charters in order to keep up with the times.
